

Kiddush Levana - New York Practical Windows - 5787 & 5788

Molad = traditional Jerusalem announcement. First practical = 3-day boundary or New York tzeit (8.5 degrees), whichever is later. Last practical = midpoint deadline; if that falls in daylight, the preceding night's alot (16.1 degrees) is shown.

Times are local New York EST/EDT except the molad column, which preserves the traditional Jerusalem announcement time. 'tzeit' means a daytime 3-day boundary is deferred to nightfall; 'alot' means the midpoint falls in daylight, so the prior night's dawn is shown. Moon visibility and Shabbat/Yom Tov customs may further affect actual practice.
